Book drive

KAES is having a book drive to help provide the Navajo Nation Youth Center with great children's books. Each year SWAU has a mission trip to the Navajo Reservation in New Mexico. On previous trips the SWAU's team has helped with the youth center. Leeann Patterson heard about the youth center and the fact that they have very few books for the youth that come to the center. Her natural desire to help sparked the idea that KAES could get involved. Leeann envisions that if everyone works together we could provide hundreds of books for the Navajo children. Here are the details! (continued on back)

No School Jan 29

Please remember that there will be no school this coming Monday, Jan. 29. Teachers will be attending the second of four trainings this year. We hope your children will enjoy the extended weekend and be ready to start on Tuesday.

The 100th day of school

What an exciting day our 100th day was. This eventful day started in chapel with everybody hunting for the lost sheep, #100, after the shepherd only counted 99. Thankfully the lost sheep was found. Later each class celebrated in their own special way, some students came as if they were 100 years

Chapel Next Week

Next week's chapel will be shared with our 3rd grade class and TLIM peer mediation team. 3rd grade will provide special music and praise songs and TLIM will share about Habit 5: Seek first to understand, then to be understood.

H&S Valentines Banquet

This banquet is open to all KAES families. February 11th from 5pm-7pm there will be games, entertainment and chances for great pictures with your family and friends. You can even enter to win in the Salsa making contest. Come enjoy this Texas themed event.

old while others used a computer program that made them look old. Some had special doorways and others party hats but each class enjoyed celebrating our 100th day. Even the home and school got involved providing every child with “100 Grand” candy bars. One thing that is for certain, we all counted to 100 multiple times. 100 blocks, 100 gum drops, 100 skittles, 100 pennies, 100 paper clips, 100 chocolate chips, 100 marbles, 100 pencils, 100 erasers, 100 dots, etc....

Book Drive (Continued)

Our Goal:

That every class will collect 20 books or more, totaling 200 books.

What kinds of books:

Any kind of children’s book is acceptable. It needs to be in good condition. Books that your children like are best.

When:

Bring in books to your child’s classroom anytime. The last day we will be collecting books will be Feb. 21. Books will then be checked for cleanliness and quality and then delivered to the youth center over spring break.
